Distributor Awards Smart Car at NPRA

4:05 PM EDT | April 13, 2009

Distributor U.S. Chemicals (New Canaan, CT) awarded a Smart Car as part of a drawing at a customer event during the National Petrochemical and Refiners Association International Petrochemical Conference in San Antonio last month.

"We have streamlined our business expenses and maximized systems, similar to other companies in this challenging environment, but decided that allocating additional funds to marketing would be beneficial in the long run," Carol Piccaro, president and CEO of U.S. Chemicals. The winner was John Siemon, manager of supply chain at Reichhold.
